

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Uptown Market Days on Broadway Has Gone to the Dogs!

Columbus, GA – July 29, 2022 - Each Saturday, four blocks along Broadway, guests can visit over 200 local and regional vendors. Here they can find fresh and organic produce, home goods, jewelry, unique crafts, and delicious baked goods. On Saturday, August 6th, Uptown turns into “Puptown” as visitors can also find adoptable dogs, courtesy of Columbus Animal Care & Control!

On August 6th & November 5th, Columbus Animal Care & Control is letting the dogs out at Market Days on Broadway! Not only will they be bringing some adoptable dogs to meet you, but they will also be accepting donations, the proceeds of which all go to the care of the animals and the shelter.

The mission of the Columbus Animal Care & Control is to protect and enhance the safety, health, and welfare of the animals and residents in our community. Columbus Animal Care & Control also works directly with community agencies for fostering and adoption including Animal Ark, Animal SOS and Paws Humane Society, among many others in an effort to save lives.

Their next adoption event will be held Saturday, August 6th at the Uptown Market Days on Broadway from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Dogs will be at Market Days to meet, adopt and take-home same day! Future adoption events at the market will be held on Nov. 5. Uptown Market Days is located on Broadway in downtown Columbus.

For more information, please visit Columbus Animal Care & Control or call 706-225-4512 for more information on how you can take home your furever friend today!

###

Contact:

Contreana Peterson
Interim Division Manager
Columbus Animal Care & Control
CPearson@columbusga.org
(706) 225-4512